Benefit Report Data on Closed Claims

Temporary Partial Disability (TPD)

Workers are eligible for TPD benefits when:

- prior to maximum medical improvement, they are temporarily unable to return to time of injury position; and
- they return to work in modified or alternative position; and
- they suffer a wage loss; and
- they have been released by their treating physician to return to a modified or an alternative position with the same employer.

All Plans	FY96	FY97	FY98	FY99	FY00
Average indemnity payment	$1,792	$2,435	$1,085	$566	$193
Average duration of benefits paid in weeks	10	9	8	4	3
Average duration in days from injury to benefit start date	160	123	108	107	68
Average duration in days between injury date & release/return to work	248	174	127	148	97

TPD Benefits

- TPD benefits are the difference between the injured worker's actual weekly wage and the actual weekly wage earned during the injured worker's temporary partial disability.

Length of TPD Benefits

- 26 weeks (The insurer, however, may extend the benefit period).

Temporary Total Disability (TTD)

A worker is eligible for TTD benefits:

- when the injured worker misses 6 lost work shifts or 48 hours, whichever occurs first; and
- the injury results in a total loss of wages and exists until the injured worker reaches maximum medical improvement; or
- until the worker is released to employment in which the worker was engaged at the time of injury or to employment with similar physical restrictions.

All Plans	FY96	FY97	FY98	FY99	FY00
Average indemnity payment	$6,145	$4,797	$2,958	$1,325	$632
Average duration of benefits paid in weeks	18	17	13	7	3
Average duration in days from injury to benefit start date	118	69	54	50	40
Average duration in days between injury date & release/return to work	217	129	112	108	70

TTD Benefits

- TTD benefits are 66 2/3% of the wages received at the time of injury, not to exceed the state's average weekly wage at the time of injury.

Length of TTD Benefits

- until the worker reaches maximum medical improvement or is released to return to work.

Permanent Partial Disability (PPD)

Workers are eligible for PPD benefits:

- if they suffer permanent partial disability and are no longer temporarily totally disabled or permanently totally disabled; and
- they have a physical condition that impairs the workers' ability to work after workers reach maximum medical improvement but are able to return to work in some capacity; and
- have a permanent impairment, greater than zero, established by objective medical finding; and
- have an actual wage loss.

All Plans	FY96	FY97	FY98	FY99	FY00
Average indemnity payment	$7,128	$11,446	$5,241	$3,459	$3,046

Average duration in days between injury date & release/return to work	252	231	191	167	77

PPD Benefits

- PPD benefits are 66 2/3% of the wages received at the time of injury, not to exceed 1/2 the state's average weekly wage at the time of injury.

Length of Benefits

- Maximum of 350 weeks.

Permanent Total Disability (PTD)

The low number of Permanent Total Disability cases prevents statistically significant summary reporting.

Workers are eligible for PTD benefits:

- if they possess a physical condition, after they reach maximum medical improvement, in which they do not have a reasonable prospect of physically performing regular employment; and
- if injured workers are no longer temporarily totally disabled and are permanently totally disabled.

PTD Benefits

- An injured worker may receive 66 2/3% of the wages received at the time of injury, not to exceed the state's average weekly wage at the time of injury. The injured worker may receive a maximum of 10 cost of living increases.

Length of Benefits

- Until the injured worker receives, or is eligible to receive, full social security retirement benefits.

Settlement Dollars

A settlement is a lump sum payment of the claimant's workers' compensation benefits. Benefits are usually paid out in periodic payments that are designed to sustain an injured worker over an extended period of time. Settlements can occur when the claimant and the insurer agree that benefits will be converted to a lump sum payment. Settlements are subject to approval by the Department of Labor and Industry.

- This graph displays average settlement amounts for all claims settled in Fiscal Year 2000, and have dates of injury in Fiscal Year 2000 and earlier.

Settlement Attorney Fees

The Employment Relations Division collects workers' compensation legal expense data on attorney fees claimed for approved settlements. The data collected are used to ensure fees the attorneys charge do not exceed the maximum amounts allowed by law. Not included are legal costs accumulated in defense of a claim, pro-bono work, court awarded fees, fees taken from bi-weekly compensation payments prior to settlement, fees related to uninsured employer claims, benefit advances, or fees related to disputed medical payments.

Notes: Information for FY99 has been updated since the previous report.

- Similar to reports issued in previous years, there is a small percentage of records for which no attorney fees were listed due to both entry errors and reporting limitations.
- The information provided reflects settlements only and does not include advances, fees associated with biweekly compensation benefits, disputed medical benefits, court awarded fees, or amounts from lump sum payments not resulting in settlements.
- Total net settlement amounts included in the list are approximations. The settlement amounts do not include annuities.

Rehabilitation

The best possible outcome after an injury is for the injured worker to return to work. Sometimes a disabled worker needs help to become employable again. The expense of rehabilitation pays off when the worker becomes as productive and self-sufficient as possible.

Rehabilitation benefits are paid bi-weekly while completing the rehabilitation plan. Benefits are $66 \frac{2}{3}$ of wages received at the time of the injury, not to exceed the state average weekly wage, for up to 104 weeks. A disabled worker may also receive payment for tuition, fees, books and other reasonable and necessary retraining expenses.

The worker's rehabilitation plan must be started within 78 weeks of reaching maximum medical healing, must be completed within 26 weeks of the completion date specified in the plan, and may not exceed 104 weeks. In addition, the insurer may pay auxiliary benefits up to $4,000 for reasonable travel and relocation expenses.

Rehabilitation benefits are provided to claimants under certain circumstances. For disabled workers to qualify for these benefits, they must have a permanent impairment established by objective medical findings, resulting from a work related injury, that precludes them from returning to their time-of-injury job or a job with similar physical requirements and also have an actual wage loss; or they must have at least 15% medical impairment established by objective medical findings and no wage loss. The injured worker must have reasonable vocational goals and re-employment opportunities that will likely reduce the wage loss, and have a rehabilitation plan agreed upon with the insurer.

Industrial Accident Rehabilitation Trust Fund

For injuries occurring on or before June 30, 1997, disabled workers may be paid vocational rehabilitation expenses from funds in the industrial accident rehabilitation account. This is a state special revenue fund. Payments to the account are made each year from an assessment to each Plan 1 employer, Plan 2 insurers, and the Plan 3 (State Fund), not exceeding 1% of compensation paid to injured employees in Montana during the preceding fiscal year.

The administration of the fund moved from the Department of Public Health and Human Service to the Department of Labor and Industry on July 1, 1997. The fund provided rehabilitation services to 59 injured employees in fiscal year 2000.
